Check, Connect, Evaluate & See

Gladstone ♦ Rockhampton ♦ Mackay ♦ Bowen

There are many workplaces now that require employees to relocate on a regular basis or fly in fly out on a rotational basis. This can raise issues within the family, relationships and the workplace.

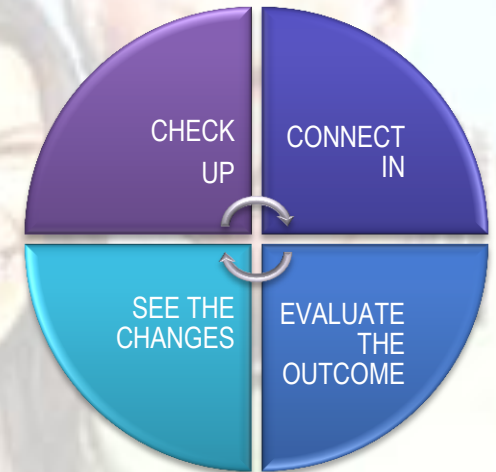

Partners may experience feelings of frustration and loneliness and employees can over time also feel a sense of disconnection and isolation from the family structure. It is important to keep your employees connected to their family to ensure it remains strong and connected. A focused employee means the workplace remains highly productive and this reduces lost work time.

If your employees belong to a transient workforce or where they have to relocate regularly or live away from home and their community, then Amovita's ACTIVATE PROGRAM is the 8 week practical and skills based course for your employees.
